PER CURIAM: Peggy Evers and NorGuard Insurance Company (Appellants) appeal the Worker's Compensation Commission's (the Commission's) dismissal of their appeal from the single commissioner and the denial of their motion to reinstate. Appellants appealed a single commissioner's order finding that the claimant was a statutory employee and awarding various temporary benefits. The Commission administratively dismissed the appeal after Appellants did not file their appellate brief. Appellants petitioned to reinstate, which the Commission denied. This appeal followed.

The Commission has not reached a final decision on the merits of the claimant's contested case. Thus, the underlying orders are not immediately appealable to this court. Therefore, this appeal is dismissed. See S.C. Code Ann. § 1-23-380 (Supp. 2019) ("A party who has exhausted all administrative remedies available within the agency and who is aggrieved by a final decision in a contested case is entitled to judicial review . . . ."); Bone v. U.S. Food Service, 404 S.C. 67, 74-75, 744 S.E.2d 552, 556-57 (2013) (defining a final judgment as an order which disposes of the entire case and explaining issues like compensability may be raised on appeal of the final award).
